Cash corn sold here yesterday was somewhat smaller. Our crop reports in this morning from Kansas, Nebraska, Illinois, Ohio and Oklahoma average 89 to per cent for wheat. Missouri sends wonderful wheat reports in northeastern Missouri Oats are starting off fine. Northwestern Ohio again sends wheat complaints. Northwest Ohio and Indiana are 5 to 10 points for the month of April. Oats seeding in all sections is proceeding at a fast pace. Rain will help them according to many reports. Acreage looks like a million or two million reduction.

The Approach of May.

Chicago, April 24.—Chicago April corn receipts will be the smallest since April, 1992. The south still reaches real as possible. It tells how a shipfor supplies into local territory. The June receipts of corn will evidently be moderate.

Chicago corn supplies will likely decrease to around 6,000,000 in May. Problem of caring for the May deliveries is palpably decreasing. This market promises a continued struggle in the lower sixties.

The passions that demand absurdly cheap corn have passed on. The bull boundary is probably 65c and the weak part of price expansion ideas lies in the expectancy of heavy Argentine arrivals May 20 and through the sum-

In presenting Antoinette LeBrun at the head of the splendid organization which will appear at the Illinois next Sunday, not only a great prima donna will be heard, but a woman of most famous lineage will be seen. Madame LeBrun traces her ancestry from that old French family, Charles Francis LeBrun, Duc del Plaisance, joint consul with Napoleon I., and another branch of the same family to which Marie Louise LeBrun, the famous artist, be longed. Madame LeBrun was born in Cincinnati, but received her musical education in Italy, and although she can sing her extensive operatic repertoire in Italian, French or German, itis her hobby to sing it in English when singing to an audience of which language. The bill to be presented here is an exceptionally brilliant and interesting one, including as it does west: Saturday generally fair; cooler the great scenes from the great operas, "Martha," "The Bohemian Girl," Wisconsin-Unsettled; showers this and "Il Trovatore," Elaine DeSellem, Harry Davies and Harold Geis, all rare artists, will also appear.

AT THE EMPIRE.

Every adult theatregoer would profit by seeing "The Drug Terror" at the Empire theatre the last half of this week. This moving picture showed in detail the conditions that prompted Mrs. W. K. Vanderbift to start her great campaign for the saving of drugentrapped souls. Every scene is vividly portrayed, and the producers eviping clerk in a wholesale drug house begins the veddling of cocaine in a small way to private customers, and how he broadens his field and finally becomes wealthy through the illegal sale of the frightful drug. However, fate decides against him, and his daughter and son-in-law become addicted to the drug. No attempt of sensationalism is made during the play. which does not end happily, the whole truth being shown. It also shows how the drug fiends and white slavers work hand in hand, and how mere babies are given drugged candy to make future customers. It exposes how young gave nurchased from a corner floris who is one of the tools. The Empire
